LEGATIONERS SAFE AT LAST.

Peking Captured Wednesday After An Obstinate Defense By the Chinese at the East Gate—Court Reported to Have Fled.

[A. P. MIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The allied armies have captured and entered Pe king in the face of obstinate resistance, and the members of the foreign legations are safe. Official confirmation of the fall of the Chinese capital has come to the United States Department of State today in the shape of two cablegrams, one from Day of Congratulation for Admiral Remey to the Navy Department, and the other from Consul Fowler at Che Foo. The cablegram from Admiral Remey came to hand first, early in the evening, followed very soon after by that from Consul Fowler. Admiral Remey's dispatch is as follows:

"TAKU, Aug. 17, 1 a.m.-Bureau Navigation, Washington: Just received telegram from Tien-Tsin, dated August 16, 10 p.m.: 'Peking was captured on August 15. Foreign legations are safe. Details follow shortly.'

(Signed)

That from Consul Fowler, giving important details of the occurrences at the time of the capture of the city, was given out in the subjoined official statement: "CHE FOO, Aug. 17, 1900.—(Received Aug. 17, 7:55 p.m.)-Secretary of State, Washington: Seventeenth-Japanese admiral reports allies attacked Peking, east, 15th. Obstinate resistance. Evening, Japanese entered capital with other forces. Immediately surrounded legations. Inmates safe. Japanese loss over one hundred; Chinese, 300.

(Signed)

Previous information which has been received here showed that the allies' SANTA FE SECOND & SPRING STS. armies took possession of Tung Chow on the 12th inst. From that city to Peking the distance is not very great, not more than a dozen miles. It seems evident, therefore, that the armies halted for a time at Tung Chow, probably for the purpose of giving the men a rest and preparing for the attack upon the capital city in force, after waiting until the rear of the advancing hosts should arrive at the front.

> If negotiations were attempted, they must have failed, as the army continued on its march and attacked the capital three days after reaching Tung Chow.

> The officials here were aware of the fact that the stronghold of the Boxers was in the Chinese city, and for the allies to attempt to force their way through into the Tartar city, in which the legation compounds are located, might mean a great loss of life, and possibly a defeat. It was also known that the imperial troops who have sided with the Boxers were, many of them, in or near the Chinese city, and that much of the artillery and rifle fire which has been poured into the legations has been from the walls separating the two cities.

Met Strong Resistance.

These facts evidently were communicated to Gen. Chaffee and other coms. Realizing these obstacles, it appears that the allies decided to attack the city by the east gate. There are four gates to the city on the east, two leading to the Chinese city and two to the Tartar city. Just which one of these was selected as the attacking point Consul Fowler's dispatch does not disclose. Contrary to the press reports of today, Consul Fowler's dispatch shows that the attack on the city met with strong resistance. The Japanese force engaged with the advance, according to the understanding of the officials here, numed 10,000 men, so that the losses suffered by them were over 1 per cent. Allow ance is made for losses in the forces of the other armies, but it is presumed that they were in proportion to those of the Japanese.

The President was overjoyed on hearing the news of the safety of Minister Conger and his associates. He has been hopeful all along that their rescue from the perilous position in which they have been for so long a time would be successfully accomplished. Tonight's news confirms that hope.

As soon as he heard of the news, Secretary Root came in from the Country Club and remained for some time with the President, discussing the latest information which had come to hand. Nothing has come directly to the War Depart-"Grandest Scen'c Trip on Earth"
Saturday and Sunday ment from Gen. Chaffee, but the Adjutant-General's office is momentarily expecting advices. The officials were on hand during the day, and waited until a late hour before leaving for home without receiving any dispatches.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.] LONDON, Aug. 17.-A special from Shanghai says: "The allies entered Peking August 15. It is believed that Yuan Shi Kai's troops have gone thence to Shen Si to protect the Empress, who, according to reports received by local officials here, with Tuan, the imperial household and the bulk of the army and the Boxers, left Peking August 7 for Hsian Fu."

Japan Wants Tuan's Scalp. [A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The Chinese minister at Tokio, Li Sheng Toh, has tele graphed to Li Hung Chang, according to a dispatch to the Times from Shanghai that Japan is willing to use her good offices in behalf of the Empress Dowager and Emperor Kwang Hsu, but is determined to prevent the escape of Prince Tuan of Yang Ki, President of the Board of War, of Hsu Tung, guardian of the heir apparent, and of Chao Su Chiao, commissioner of the Railway and Mining Bureau.

"Li Hung Chang," the dispatch continues, "has received instructions from the Throne to ask Russia if she is willing to assist China to arrive at a peaceful settle ment, and to give assurances that she has no intention of annexing any part of Manchuria. If the reply is favorable, Earl Li has orders to negotiate without delay. Simultaneously, the military in Manchuria will be directed to cease

Referring to a number of special dispatches appearing in German papers which claim that the United States government, now that the members of the legations are relieved, is about to withdraw from the international undertaking, a high official of the German Foreign Office said this evening: "The Washington government has assured the other powers of its willingness to cooperate in carrying out a joint programme. This assurance has sufficed so far, and will continue to suffice, in spite of newspaper stories to the contrary."

John B. In fact, up-to Peking, the powers are all agreed, but beyond that no agreement has even been attempted. The future must be left to new diplomatic negotiations."

Germany, beyond any doubt, is preparing everything for an autumn and winter campaign in China. One striking evidence of this is the fact that a slow steamer has been chartered for December to carry to China material for a sixty-mile field railroad.

LEGATIONS BLOCKADED. The Haichi anchored close by to be of many maniacs. We brought our infective revolvers into play and fought like demons to protect the women and children.

"I had one revolver in my right hand. It was a six-shooter. I wanted every shot to tell. Those who had the other two revolvers laid several Chinese low in death and wounded several others before their weapons were knocked out of their hands by stones and sword cuts. I killed two Chinese myself, that is. I believe they must have afterwards died from the wounds I inflicted. But my active fighting was soon brought to a close by a vicious sword slash by an infuriated Chinese whom I had wounded. He cut me across the right wrist, knocking the pistol from my grasp and rendering the arm powerless.

"Most fortunately for our hard-pressed party, just as things were beginning to look hopeless for us, some of the Chinese pounced upon our valuables. It was now evident that they valued our belongings more than our heads. They fell to fighting among themselves and robbed us of, everything we had—money, personal belongings and all, even going so far as to tear the skirts off the women and cut the buttons off our clothes with their swords.

"I have fifteen wounds as a result of my encounter with the Chinese. My whole body hears souvenirs of the fight. I don't know if I will ever be able to use my right hand again. STERS MEET DEATH IN THE

IA. P. DAY REPORT.1

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from Lonon says Misses Eugenia and Virginia Brandreth, the two accomplished laughters of Harry Brandreth, who is the European representative and many the European representative and manager of the Allcock Manufacturing Company, were drowned in the River Liedr in Wales, before the eyes of their two younger sisters and a brother. The family were at their beautiful Welsh home, Liedr Hall, Pantypanta, near Bettway-Coed, through which flows the beautiful river from which it is named. The five went swimming together. Miss Virgonia, who was 22 got into difficulties in a deep pool, and her older sister, who was an accomplished athlete and a strong swimmer, went to her assistance. For several minutes they struggled together in silence. Then suddenly the dying Virginia got a grip on her sister's throat. Eugenia had just time to call for assistance when they went down for the first time.

The younger sisters, horrified by the unexpected turn of affairs, screamed lustily for help. A gardener heard them, and came running to the river. Other help soon arrived and the unconscious young women were got to shore. Miss Virginia died almost immediately. The eldest lived fully two hours, but never regalined consciousness. The bodies will probably be taken back to Hoylake, in Cheshire, for burial.

Sensation in the Legal Fraternity. Old-timers Become Citizens.

HONOLULU, Aug. 11.—[Wired from San Francisco, Aug. 11.] United States Judge M. M. Estee has arrived here and opened his court, and one of his first acts was to make an order seizing a courtroom for his own use, the local authorities not having provided him with one. Judge Estee ordered United States Marshal Ray to take possession of a room which has been the court of Circuit Judge Sillman.

The order from Judge Estee came after a good deal of correspondence had passed between His Honor and Superintendent of Public Works J. A. McCandless regarding the finding of quarters for the United States Court. The order created a great sensation among the legal fraternity. It has raised the point whether the United States for the Territory of Hawaii is the owner of the public buildings here. The matter will have to be decided at Washington.

Damage to Timber.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.] DENVER, Aug. 17.—A special to the Times from Dei Norte, Colo., says

heavy timber fires are raging south and west of Dei Norte, from the head of the south fork of the Rio Grande sto the head of the Conejos River. The damage is the greatest in the history of the country.

There is almost conclusive evidence that these fires are being intentionally set, and the general impression prevails that this section is entitled to a State fire patrol at once. No rain is falling, and the fire has unlimited sway across nearly fifty miles of country.

ONTARIO, Aug. 17.—[Regular Correspondence.] G. A. Housar, on entering his barn Monday morning, was startled to find the dead body of one of his Mexican rench hands lying on the grating used to wash the buggles. The deceased, Jesus Torres, had gone to the hydrant to take a shower bath as was his custom, and it is presumed the shock of the cold water caused his death, as he was susceptible to heart failure. In the absence of the Coroner, Justice Rhodes of Chino conducted the inquest, and the jury found that the deceased come to his death from natural causes, He was a native of Mexico and its years old. In his preliminary remarks, Col. Campbell took occasion to regret the heated state of public feeling in Kentucky, and implored the jury to weigh the evidence and return a verdict based on that. body of Goebel, was used in tracing the bullet. By this he said it was conclusively proved that the shot was fired from Caleb Power's office, and he defied the defense to try to shake the correctness of the demonstration.

Campbell referred to Attorney Owens of the defense as one of Powers's fellow-assassins, and said that while he always refrained from calling men liars the temptation was great in the case of Lawyer Sinclair, who made himself one of three witnesses who testified that the sound did not come from the direction of Powers's office, while over 100 other witnesses testified that it did come from that direction.

Col. Campbell took up the evidence of various witnesses and discussed its bearing upon the case. He declared that the murder of Goebel had for its object the permanent installment of an organization of political buccaneers in the mountains, whose strongest ally was a great corporation of whom Goebel had been a thorn in the flesh. Powers's own admissions on the stand, corroborating everything Culton had said, were sufficient to hang him, the speaker declared.

Ex.Gov. John Younk Brown this afternoon made the closing speech for the defense.

CONTROL OF THE PIG. CARNEGIE COMPANY BUYING UP BLAST FURNACES.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.] PITTSBURGH, Aug. 17.-The Post plants in the United States. Its representatives now have negotiations pending for the purchase of the plants of Haverly & Co. at Buffalo; the Newburg furnaces at Cleveland; a plant at Carondelet near St. Louis, and two others in the Mahoning Valley. The fact that the Carnegie company has contracted for 16,000,000 tons of iron ore annually, when 6,000,000 will amply supply its present plants, is taken as an indication that it expects to acquire other plants of sufficient capacity to use the remaining tonnage.

"With its facilities for getting ore and the possession of blast furnaces of enough capacity to turn all its ore into pig metal, it will be in a position to dictate prices and limit materials for all its competitors."

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.] SALT LAKE, Aug. 17.—Today's ses-sion of the Woodmen of the World was taken up mainly in the reading and discussion of the report of the board of management. but this time it was with the knowledge of her husband. Whether it was also with his consent, only the two principals know.

At any rate, Mrs. Young, the bride of less than one year, packed her grip and went away, and yesterday afternoon a second-hand furniture dealer stopped at the flat with his team and stripped the rooms of all the household effects. Hereafter, it is said, husband and wife will go their respective ways and meet no more, unless by chance. He has removed his clothing and personal effects to the engine-house, where he sleeps, and from which he is absent only at meal time, and she will not "play in his back yard any more."

Young secured a leave of absence at 10 a.m' yesterday for twenty-four hours in order to dispose of his furniture and attend to other private matters. He stated that his wife, accompanied by her aunt, had gone to her sister's home at Pasadena. To his companioris he said that he would now be a bachelor. It is generally understood that one or the other will secure a divorce. When Mra. Young left home on the night of the 6th inst., her husband was in ignorance of the fact until the next morning, when he went home for breakfast. All that day he was terribly agitated, fearing that his wife had committed suicide. On the afternoon of the 8th he learned that she was alive, through her brother-in-law, who took him to Pasadena to see his wife. Young was apparently satisfied with the explanation she gave and took her back home. However, his peace of mind was of short duration on account of persistent rumors connecting his wife's name with that of Harry Mills, few minutes. He said that he discovered Mrs. Young and Mills together, and when he went up to them Mills skippeel out on his bicycle. He asked Mrs. Young where she was going and who her company was, to which she repiled that it was none of his business. Mills returned and the two men exchanged a few warm words and parted. Mills and the woman going away together. Baildwin said that if Young feels aggrieved at him, he has not broached the subject.

It was said last night that Mills has admitted to intimate friends that he was with Mrs. Young when she left home nearly two weeks ago, and that he had no particular regrets. It is alleged that the detective who was hunting for Mills nearly all day on the Sth inst. found the two together in what was at one time a leading hotel, on North Main street, and advised them to get back to their respective homes as quick as possible, or at least to separate. It was then, so the story goes, that Mrs. Young's aunt took her to Pasadena. At any rate, Mrs. Young's and a few minutes later Mrs. Young's hother-in-law notified Young that his wife had turned up at Pasadena early in the afternoon.

Several days ago Mrs. Young's aunt, in speaking of the troubles of her insec, said that Mr. Young's did not session on Thursday, and transacte ing committees for the ensuing year:

WHO OWNS THE BEEF! DOPE FIEND CAPTURED

A debilitated individual entered Cline's grocery on Spring street yesterday with an armful of canned extract of beef, which he tried to sell for $1.25. E. G. Comport, a clerk, sized him unas a petty larcenist and accused him of having stolen the wares which he offered for sale. The fellow thereupon gathered up the stuff and started to leave the store on the double quick. Comport followed him. The suspect dodged into the Tufts-Lyons store, and escaped by the rear door. He crossed the alley and entered Melezer's liquor store by the rear door. Comport, still in pursuit, overtook the fellow in Melezer's place, where he was attempting to hide his armful of canned goods. Comport seized him and turned him over to a policeman. At the station the prisoner was recognized as Charles Poster, a motorious depe fiend. He had a dope outfit in his flocket, which bore evidence of frequent use. Foster was locked up on the charge of petty larceny. The owner of the beef extract has not yet been found. Foster pretended that it was given to him to dispose of.

CAPSIZED IN A SQUALL. THREE PERSONS DROWNED FROM

THE YACHT ST. FRANCOIS. QUEBEC, Aug. 17.—The yacht St. Francois, while on a pleasure trip from Tadousac to River du Loup, yesterday, was caught in a squall and capsized off White Island. There were five persons on board, Capt. Foster, Adelard Savard, Cousine Morin, P. Morin and P. Boucher, all of whom were thrown into the water. The yacht Jamboree was passing at the time, and with much difficulty succeeded in saving Boucher and Savard. Capt. Foster and the two Morins are missing, and were probably drowned.

Political Conditions in 1800.

From the government point of view the nineteenth century will be notable in all future history as the era of the triumph of democracy. The beginning of the movement for political liberty dates back to the early mediaeval period of European history, but a review of conditions at the opening of this century shows that the long struggle had resulted in the establishment of self-government in only two nations. Great Britain had established a parliamentary government on a sure basis,

THE TRIUMPH OF DEMOCRACY As we look abroad today at the close of the century we see self-government established in more or less perfect measure in every civilized country of the world save Russia. Among the great nations America and Great Britain now stand as types of the most perfect democracy that the world has organising on the primary plan of representation.

These movements are simply symptomatic of the development of a spirit of extreme democracy, which demanded that this should be as direct a government by all the people as it was possible to arrange. The latest manifestation of this spirit is the widespread agitation for the introduction of the referendum on a plan similar to that employed in Switzerland. Many political scientists believe that we in America have gone too fast and too far on this road toward the most extreme democracy. They believe that restrictions on the suffrage which would exclude the ignorant and unstable element of our present citizenship would insure better government. But this academic discussion has no apparent influence on practical politics. Democracy is indeed triumphant in America, and the solution of our difficulties must come through the education of this democracy.

DEMOCRACY IN GREAT BRITAIN. DEMOCRACY IN GREAT BRITAIN

considering the country which first established self-government in the modern world. For six hundred years and more before the beginning of our century the people of England had steadily pressed toward a free parliamentary government. During the seventeenth century they had beheaded one king and exited another who attempted to rule without the consent of the governed. During the century preceding our own the cabinet system was perfected, and the responsibility of ministers to the House of Commons was clearly defined. The crown had been brought under control of the popular will as expressed in Parliament, and the House of Lords had lost the larger part of its influence before 1800. The House of Commons was thus the real sovereign of England.

Nevertheless England was not a deat the governmental development of a few important nations. DEVELOPMENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

In America the opening of the century found government by the people in successful operation under the present Constitution. For nearly a quarter of a century the United States had been an independent republic under the declaration of 1776, and for a decade it had enjoyed efficient national government. Still the political philosophers of the day felt that republican government in America was an experiment of doubtful issue. The modern world showed no othey instance of such government except the little republic of Switzerland, and the stability of demogracy on a larger scale was yet to be proved.

But although they were ploneers in a perplexing field, the framers of our Constitution succeeded in establishing a government on such wise lines that the fundamental law has required very few formal changes during more than a century of growth. Nevertheless, while the form of the Constitution has remained practically unaltered, our government has been changing constantly in spirit and method. By everbroadening interpretation of the written Constitution, the system has been adjusted to changing demands. Thus the republic of 1900 differs widely from the republic of 1900 differs widely from the republic of 1900, although its fundamental law has been amended very slightly. The great change which has been wrought may be best expressed as the evolution from a virtual aristocracy to a real democracy.

PROM ARISTOCRACY TO DEMOC-

been wrought may be best expressed as the evolution from a virtual aristooracy to a real democracy.

PROM ARISTOCRACY TO DEMOCRACY.

It is commonly believed that the founders of our nation were ardent advocates of democratic equality. That this is a mistaken conception appears from an examination of the form of government which they established when they had achieved independence. In the first place, the laws of the various States greatly restricted the voting privilege. Universal manhood suffrage was not an eighteenth-century idea even in liberty-loving America. It was the fashion for political leaders to declare that the voice of the people is the voice of God, but they wanted to select the people. A glance at the Federal Constitution also shows how far were the revolutionary statesmen from implicit confidence in the people. For instance, the original electoral-colleges system of choosing the President was an attempt to secure an aristocratic, tho of faith in direct popular action.

But the century was still young when the people asserted their right to make direct choice of their president and discovered a way to do this under the Constitution by the device of pledged electors. Next they took into their hands the nomination of their candidates of the presidency. At first nominations had been made by congressional caucus, but elamor for a more democratic choice suspended this method after 1824, and, after a period of confusion, there developed about 1846 the present representative national convention. Meantime property qualifications and other restrictions on the suffrage were diany the pearing, and the political parties were last battle of the greatest struggle for political liberty in all history was won in our century.

REPUBLICANISM IN FRANCE.

The nation which stands beside the United States as the second greatest republic in the world has had a stormy governmental history during the last 100 years. The first republic established by the French revolution was just yielding to the absolutism of Napoleon when the century began. When Napoleon was conquered by the allied armies of Europe, in 1815, France was handed back to the Bourboons, and remained a monarchy until the great wave of popular revolution which swept Europe in 1848 drove Louis Philippe from the throne and brought Louis Napoleon to the front as the President of the second republic. Following closely in the footsteps of his uncle, the great Napoleon, the President of France speedily made himself the Emperor of the French, and it required the convulsion of the Franco-Prussian war of 1871 to Gverthrow the empire and retup the third republic. The parliamentary system thus established has endured for a generation, but its existence has seemed so precarious at times that if France were the only great exemplar of republican government the enemies of the system would have some justification for repeating today the grave forecasts of fallure which were so common a century ago when our awn free government was in the experimental stage. France is ever looking apprehensively for the man on horseback who will override republican institutions and revive the monarchy.

GRAND LARCENY. The attention of Officer Talamantes, who has a nose for detecting stoien live stock, was attracted yesterday by a man who was trying to sell a fine two-year-old helfer. Talamantes dickered with the fellow for the animal and asked him questions until he became convinced that he had stolen it. He therefore placed the man under arrest. The prisoner gave the name of Frank Allen Speer, and after brief detention confessed that he stole the helfer from a rancher named McMullin at Alhambra. McMullin was communicated with by telephone and confirmed the story of the theft.

Talamantes located Speer's room and searched it, returning to the Police Station with a bicycle, a telescope beg and a big bundle of clothes. Whether any of these articles are stolen property is not known.

Speer is booked for grand larceny. He is a man of reepectable appearance, and had receipts in his pockets showing that he has been paying poil tax in this county for several years. It is not believed that he is a professional thief.

Nero, thinking it some new game, followed quickly and muster and dog swam swiftly to the spot where the child had disappeared. But before Thornton reached it, the great dog had realized the serotusness of the affair, and as the girl's head, with the pale face, and the big eyes closed, came to the surface again, the intelligent animal swept past Thornton, and thrust his nose under the white arm nearest him. Then he turned and made his way back to shore, the half unconscious child elimping to his great neck. Thornton, too astonished to speak, followed as fast as he might, and lifted her out of the water as Nero-reached the shallows. She did not speak or move, and Thornton, who had had experience in such matters before, caught up his coat, wrapped it about her, and began to shake her gently. Presently the big blue eyes opened languidly, and the little lungs, relieved of the water, began to breathe again.

"You are safe now," said Thornton, reassuringly, "We are going to put you to bed, between some warm blankets, and—"

Half an hour later Thornton came down to the public room of the inn, where the keeper was awaiting him. "The child is doing nicely, Higgins," said the master of the Gabies, as he tried vainly to light a match on his still damp knickerbockers. "I am going home to get some dry clothes myself. I will drop in again this evening, and meanwhile anything that Mrs. Roberts or her children want, be sure you get them promptly. They are old friends of my family." he went on unblushingly, "and I expect them to have the best."

"Aye, sir, that they shall have," said the pleased inn-keeper, as his fingers closed over the offered coin.

Six months later the Gables had a mistress. À FARCE ENDED.

The wretched farce known as the "Liberty Congress of the American League of Anti-Imperialists" which for some days past has been engaged in stirring up a wordy tempest in a smallsized teapot at Indianapolis, is ended. The end was apparent from the beginning of the powwow. That end was the that you Republicans have turned indersement of Bryan and the Popu-out?" list platform upon which he was nomi-

In thus making itself the tail of the Demo-Populist kite, the so-called anti-imperialist organization fulfilled the chief end for which it was called into exstence. There has been some pretense than that of aiding the Demo-Populist cause; but all disguise is at last thrown aside, and it stands confessed in its true character as an annex or sideshow of the Demo-Populist aggregation.

Two or three delegates to the so-called "Congress," who were simple-minded enough to believe that the gathering had some purpose other than the indorse-ment of the Bryan candidacy and platform, attempted to plead for consistent action along lines naturally suggested by the professed aims and purposes of the organization. But these pleaders for onsistency were hooted down, jeered at and insulted to such an extent that they gave up the attempt in evident disgust Every mention of Bryan's name was of the "Congress" throughout were suggestive rather of a Bryan "congress" called together for the purpose of discussing questions of national interest.

acious assaults made by the speakers upon the President, primarily, and upon his administration in general, out-Bryaned Bryan in the matter of the stubborn. The collapse of the Chinese resistance is explained in dispatches Mr. Bryan is wont to deal pretty liberally, as a general proposition. Indeed, while Mr. Bryan finds a great deal of fault, and talks calamity and misery by wholesale, he is seldom insolent to-ward the President, or openly menda-cious in his assertiona. The platform adopted and the speeches made by the garg of "anti-imperialist" fakers who as-sembled at Indianapolis were both insolent and mendacious to a degree which renders them unworthy the notice of in-telligent, fair-minded and truthful men. Even Mr. Bryan should be ashamed to receive the indersement and support of tions will press for settlement, and the most difficult part of the problem, from a diplomatic point of view, is yet to come. It will be many months, in all probability, before the foreign troops are all withdrawn from China, and it will be fortunate, indeed, if the difficulties are all cleared away without s clash between some of the allied powers. So far as China is concerned, it is probable that she will be able to do little more than yield to whatever demands may be men so blinded by prejudice, so choked with political fanaticism, so wrong-

"Those of us who have lived many years in the tropics have less fear than those who think of them from afar. If a man is careful in his habits and morals in these southern lands, and seeks relief in northern sections at regular intervals, he enjoys the tropics, keeps well, and is prosperous. The Philippines, moreover, are fertunately provided with high mountains, that will be used to advantage in offsetting the effect of residence in the hot, lower levels. More people die of grip, pnsumonia and kindred ills in London and New York in proporties to the population, than of chelera, plague and similar troubles in Manila and Bangkek. When peace and its comforts come, Manila will be regarded as one of the most attractive cities for foreign residence in all Asia. The unhappy conditions of war, which accentuate the heat, do not afford a criterion of correct judgment. My experience in the Philippines, in times both of peace and war, confirms this statement. During the four years that I had the honor of being United States Minister to Siam, whose great capital, Bangkek, is only 1300 miles from Manila, and almost on the same parallel, I worked harder and enjoyed better health than ever previously in America."

But unless this opinion is forcibly and plainly expressed in the primary election today, you cannot convince the politicians and weaker brethren that we are determined to have a worthy representative. If we faithfully do our duty and improve what is really a great privilege and opportunity, we can elect enough delegates to the Congressional convention and do such a vigorous amount of scratching as will give pause to the "push" in their blunder, which is worse than a crime, because it is against the public and national weifars. Those cases in which I have had occasion to differ from him upon questions of public policy are familiar to most readers of The lation here. In the early part of his first term in Congress there was some divergence of views be-tween us on the subject of legisla-tion for the inner harbor at San rion for the inner harbor at San Pedro; but these differences were inconsequential. It was when the fierce contest over the deep-water harbor came on in Congress that my faith in the strength, loyalty and ability of McLachlan received a set-back. He may possibly have been well meaning, as his friends claim, but he was weak and vaciliating.

3. I have never undertaken to dictate, outline or even suggest to Mr. McLachlan say political or party policy of my own framing, or originating with myself. It was his failure to declare himself promptly and squarely for one of the chief tenets of the National Republican party that evoked my criticism in his last canvass. In the early part of the campaign of 1896, while McLachlan was still continuing to espouse the free-silver hereay, even after the holding of the Republican National Convention at St. Louis (and national conventions have been National Convention at St. Louis (and national conventions have been aptly called "the Supreme Court of the party,") The Times was at variance with Mr. McLachlan on the financial question, my journal being unequivocally for sound money; hence I declined to support his candidacy for Congress until he "squared himself" by swinging into line for the national platform, which he finally did at platform, which he finally did at the dictation of the Republican State Committee. When this was done, The Times promptly came to the support of the Republican nominee for Congress; but he could not be saved from the consuming wrath of an unbelieving electorate. In the Congressional campaign of 1894, likewise, The Times with-held its support from Mr. McLach-lan on account of the harbor ques-tion, until he found himself con-strained by an overwhelming pub-lic pressure to openly esponse the late contest; but I did not agree with his professed belief. The people, who are all powerful, had decided that they would not have him for a second term, and no newspaper could have saved him. At the same time, after referring to At the same time, after referring to his political disappointments and personal necessities, he asked me whether I would oppose his quest for the office of U. S. District Attorney, and I replied no; that while I had already recommended another man for that place, he was welcome to win it for all I cared. He thanked me, expressed his gratitude, and appeared to be satis-fied with my personal treatment of me a courteous congratulatory letter, to which I replied in the same spirit.

These are fair examples showing the personal relations which have subsisted for years between Mr. McLachlan and myself – relations which, while not close, have at the same time been not unfriendly; certainly not of a character to justify the freely and freshly circulated charges of "personal hostility," "personal vindictiveness," "attempted dictation," etc. These charges, which have been made against The Times and myself by Mr. McLachlan in his personal organs, in letters, orally upon the streets, and by his personal adherents in all political circles ever aince his present pursuit of the Congressional nomination began, have no basis in truth. They are made for purposes of personal and political deception and private vengance. They are grossly unjust to me, and wholly misleading to voters. They are entitled to no credence whatever.

I never interfered with Mr. McLachlan or his work in Congress, save to constantly urge upon him loyalty to the harbor interests of Los Angeles, opposition to the enemies of that vitally necessary project,

A I have never had any personal relations with Mr. McLachian that could truthfully be called hostile, unfriendly, or charged with private animosity; and I do not now entertain any purpose or desire to injure him as a private individual. I simply do not believe in him as a suitable and available candidate for Congress: and in copposing his am acting strictly within my rights other citizens, each acting for him-self according to his own lights.

5. Your fifth inquiry is answere substantially in my third paragraph above, relating to the Con-gressional contest of 1898. In his other candidacies—two for listrict Attorney and his first race for Con-gress in 1894, The Times supported Mr. McLachlan.

6 The reasons why I now "so strenuously oppose Mr. McLach-lan's somination" will be obvious claim, but he was weak and vaciliating.

2 No, I have no recollection of ever having asked of, or of having been refused by, Mr. McLachian any personal or other favor. I have no personal grievance against him. I had no personal favors to usk of him while in Congress, and he had no power to do me any consider it either against the control of the had no power to do me any consider it either against the results. lan and his supporters. I cannot consider it either sensible or patriotic for this hungry man to so persistently push himself forward, as he has long been doing, for favors at the hands of the Republican party, when he thereby clearly jeopardizes the chances of party success at a crucial juncture in our national political affairs.

I oppose him for these further reasons:

EVENTS OF THE DAY.

If the City Council grants the simple petition for permission to make a sewer extension near East Los Angeles Park, and it doubtless will do so, a recently-organized company will erect a large paper mill, in which upward of $100,000 will be invested. The capital is supplied by a former Arkansas citisen, who has faith in the great southwest. The mill will be the first of its kind in Southern California.

[AT THE CITY HALL.] IMPORTANT INDUSTRY.

New Paper Mill to Be Established in Los Angeles.

Site Secured Rear East Los Angeles Park-Adgle's Proposed Zoo.

A large paper mill is to be erected at Alhambra avenue and San Pablo street a short distance from East Los Angeles Park, and more than $100,000 is to be invested in the enterprise. The first intimation of the fact made public was when Robert Brown filed in the office of the City Clerk yesterday a petition for permission to construct a sewer across a portion of that park. The petition recites that it is the intention of the petitioner to erect a large paper mill at the corner mentioned and he desires to build a sewer from the present public sewer at Main and Gates streets along one of the proposed mill. It is also stated that the construction and use of this sewer exsed mill. It is also stated that the struction and use of this sewer existence will in no way injure the lawns, as and flowers of the park, as it will beneath the roadway. It is further need out that, as between ten and sen inches of water will flow through sewer at all times, it will improve condition of the public sewer in it it will keep it constantly flushed, a water is to be secured from a number of wells to be sunk on the mill is mentioned in the petition, but from representative of Mr. Brown it was product.

The petition for the right to make the secessary sewer connection will doubtless be granted by the City Council. The plant will probably be in operation before Christmas.

QUESTIONS OF BOUNDARIES.

making two wards on the east side of the river and then divide the part of the city into wards the dividing lines of which would be straight lines from the river to the western boundary of the city. He offered these matters not as recommendations from his committee, but merely as suggestions to be considered by the board.

During the discussion which followed, it appeared to be the consensus of opision that it would not be advisable to change the existing ward boundaries for the reason that the proposition to eliminate any ward would at once array the voters of that particular ward against the proposed charter and would probably secure its defeat at the polls.

Mr. Millard brought up the matter of electing, in addition to Councilmen from the respective wards, several additional members at large. He did not favor the plan and gave as his reason that certain cities in the East had tried the experiment and had not found the plan a desirable one. At his request, Mr. Conrey agreed to write to Indianapolis for information as to the success of the plan, it being in operation there.

Mr. Anderson made the suggestion that nomination to the Council be made in the wards and the entire Council be elected by the city at large. Several members opposed this, for the reason that that plan would not, in their opinion, reduce or remove the opportunity for corruption.

Dr. Hayney strongly favored the election of Councilmen at large. He pointed out that under the existing system, with nine Councilmen in office, the welfare of the city at large.

Mr. McCutcheon also favored the election of five or six Councilmen at large. He said the present system is not a model one in that it made possible legislation which favored one section. As an example, he mentioned the two tunnels, saying that he did not consider that the greater part of the city secured much benefit from them, although the whole city is taxed for them. He said had there been five or six Councilmen at large. Hesponside the section of two councilmen from each of the manual taxation for a simple street improvement.

Mr. Page favored the election of two Councilmen from each ward, one to be elected each year. He was opposed to paying high salaries to Councilmen, such as would make the place an easy berth for the salary paid.

Other members engaged in the discussion and Mr. McCutcheon finally moved that it was the sense of the board that it was the sense of the board reserving, however, the right to take such action in the matter as in future it might consider advisable. The motion prevailed.

The secretary was directed to com-take such action in the matter as in future it might consider advisable. The motion prevailed.

The secretary was directed to communicate with the City Council, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, the Chamber of Commerce and all elective officers of the city, inviting them to give to the board the benefit of such suggestions with reference to what the proposed chartershall contain as they may desire to make. At Mr. Page's suggestion the several newspapers of the city were requested to publish this request.

"Civil Service" was made the subject for discussion as a special order of business for the next meeting. Henry O'Melveny, who was chairman of the committee of the former board having that subject in charge, was invited to address the board.

There was a long discussion as to the manner and cost of securing the desired number of copies of the committee reports. The matter was left to the various committees and the rates for the work fixed.

The board was notified that the telephone company has donated the use of a telephone at the offices of the board in the Copp building. A vote of thanks was tendered the company.

THE SURVEY COMPLETE. IMPORTANT SURVEY WORK. of that great basin are issued by the United States government, yet the field notes and the work done by the en-gineers in the employ of the govern-notes and the work done by the engineers in the employ of the government will be at once available for use by the engineers of this city, and will be used as evidence in the litigation by which the city is now trying to secure control of the water rights in the valley.

More than a year ago the City Council adopted a resolution requesting that this survey be ordered by the government, and after this resolution had passed through the regular official channels the work was ordered, and a corps of government engineers was at once placed in the field. Owing to the size of the basin, and the necessity for the most thorough work, the progress of this corps has been slow, but it is now practically complete. If the city had to wait until all of the maps made were issued from Washington, the survey would be of little use to the city in the present litigation, but as the result of the work is at once available, the evidence will not only be very important to the city, but the city itself will have been saved the great expense of making the survey is self. City Engineer Olmsted said yesterday that he considered this survey as complete and carefully made as any that has ever come under his observation.

PROPOSED LION RANCH.

ADGIE'S NEW ENTERPRISE. Adgle, the ilon tamer, who is known by reputation at least to a majority of the people of this cify, thousands of whom have seen her and her feroclous pets, wants to make her permanent residence in Los Angeles and incident-pets, wants to make her permanent residence in Los Angeles and incident-residence in Los Angeles and incident-ally to start here a new industry, the like of which can be found in no city in the country.

The enterprise in which she desires to embark is that of establishing a small lion ranch, if such it can be called, making the place one where the beasts will be at all times on exhibition and where they will multiply, the young being disposed of to soological gardens, menageries and to persons who want lions for whatever purpose.

Adgle called at the City Hall yesterday to ascertain whether there would be any obstacle in the way of the establishment of such a "ranch" in this city. She presented the matter to acting Mayor Silver, to whom she explained her plans in detail. She is desirous of purchasing Sycamore Grove, on Pasadena avenue near Avenue 50. There she will have erected large cages and animal houses for the accommodation of her pets. If she secures the place and is permitted to do as she pleases with it she will greatly beautify the grounds and make of the grove a resort for those in search of amusement. She first wanted to know whether the city authorities would interpose any objections to the enterprise. She said she realized that some of the owners of property in that vicinity might protest through not understanding just what she intended, but she was satisfied of her ability to explain to them her plans in such manner as would cause them to withdraw any protest which they might make.

Mayor Silver, of course, could not give her positive assurance that there would be no objections to her plan, but he informed her that the matter would have to be presented to the City Council. She seemed satisfied with this and departed. It is probable that she will file a petition to the City Council with she will fully explain her plans.

Had Little to Do.

So few have been the petitions as to street and other public work filed in the City Council during several weeks, that the Board of Public Works has had very little to do. Testerday morning when the members of the board arrived at the City Hall all they could find upon which to take action was the contract for the construction of a cement sidewalk and curb on Passadena avenue, between Avenues 18 and 25. There were several bids, but the board recommended to the Council that the award be made to J. Hein, whose bid was 26 cents per lineal foot for curbing, and 8 cents per lineal foot for curbing, and 8 cents per lineal foot for curbing, and 8 cents per square foot for curbing, and 8 cents per square foot for curbing. And 8 cents per lineal foot for curbing and 8 cents per square foot for curbing and 8 cents per lineal foot for curbing and 8 cents per square foot for curbing and 8 cents per square foot for curbing and 8 cents per square foot for sidewalk.

The next meeting of the Board of Public Works will be an important one. At that time the several petitions for the council that the was 26 cents per lineal foot for curbing and 8 cents per square foot for curbing the foot for curbing and 8 cents per square foot for curbing and 8 cents per

"The engineer," continued Judge Al-

"The engineer," continued Judge Allen, "made no effort to stop his train until within a few feet of the accident, when he did apply every means in his power to bring his engine to a standstill, stopping finally at Avenue 22—about 200 feet from where the woman lay broken, bleeding and forever unconscious. It must necessarily be concluded, then, that the engineer, at a point above Avenue 23 and after he saw Mrs. Green walking toward the track and in close proximity thereto, could have stopped his train in time to have prevented the accident, but, notwithstanding the fact that he saw she was not looking toward the train, but walking straight ahead, he assumed that she would not proceed upon the track and therefore made no effort to stop his train until too late."

WAS SHE AT ALL TO BLAME?

WAS SHE AT ALL TO BLAME?

WAS SHE AT ALL TO BLAME?

Although Judge Allen considers the case a close one, he thinks that the defense of contributory negligence was hardly proven. He sat as a jury in the case, heard the testimony, viewed the premises, and now considers that the woman was not to blame.

Relative to the company's acts in the matter, the court says:

"The facts that defendant's servants operated their train at this great rate of speed through a public street, while not thickly populated, had numerous houses along its line; that no bell or whistle was sounded and no effort made to stop the train after it became apparent that the deceased was approaching, unconsciously, a dangerous place, establish gross carelessness upon the part of the defendant, which cannot be seriously controverted. The only controversy, really, in the case, is whether or not the deceased by her carelessness contributed to the injury."

Then the court looks at it from the woman's standpoint and says:

"If obstructions had existed along the line of Humboldt street, so that a view of the train could not be had ex-

These claims, aggregating 1350, were disallowed by the Board of Supervisors as not being a proper charge against the county. The claimants were Luther G. Brown, W. H. Wright, Edward M. Pallette and Jesse J. Morgan. They assigned their claims to Catesby C. Thorn, who brought suit against the county to enforce payment. The defendant demurred to each of the six counts of the complaint, on the ground that the facts stated did not constitute a cause of action. ALLEGED DECEPTION. OIL STOCK DEAL IN COURT. Suit was begun in the Superior Cou yesterday by J. F. Bumiller again W. F. West and the Continental Co Company, asking for the restoration of 20,210 shares of the company's capital stock and for a general accounting of the affairs of the corporation.

Bumiller alleges in his complaint that West induced him to sell his stock that West induced him to sell his stock at a time when the latter knew of developments that made it suddenly valuable, and thus took advantage of his ignorance to get it cheap. On the ground of this alleged deception, Burnitler now asks the court to restornim his stock.

West's answer, of course, has not yet been filed, but it will undoubtedly be a general denial, with the claim that the transaction was in every way straight.

Penalty of Law.

Police Find a New Scapegoat to Answer for "Growler" Evil.

It pays sometimes to be adolescent. At least youth proved to be profitable in the case of W. L. Horna.

Young Horne is employed as a clerk in his father's pharmacy, No. 2601 Central avenue. He was arrested several weeks ago on the charge of selling intoxicating liquors to children. The law is very explicit in cases of this kind. It prescribes a penalty of $100 fine or six months' imprisonment, or both.

The case against young Horne was a cinch. There was not the least doubt as to his guilt, yet he had pleaded not guilty and his father hired two attorneys, Frank F. Davis and D. C. Morrison, to bolster up a defense.

The attorneys were view to the least doubt and the storneys were view to the least doubt.

meys. Frank F. Davis and D. C. Morrison, to bolster up a defense.

The attorneys were wise in their day and generation and did not seek to combat the case. Instead of trying to prove that the defendant had not made any unlawful sale of intoxicants, they were willing to admit that he had, but they worked on the sympathies of the court and the District Attorney by harping on the extreme youth of the defendant as an excuse for his breach of the law. They represented him as being only if years of age, although he looks older, and averred that he had been left in charge of the store merely been left in charge of the store merely and the first sight that greeted him was two little grills with beer cans him was two little grills with beer cans and the owner. POLICE DISPLEASED.

As a result of this summary action, Chief of Police Elton and Humane Officer Ornig are wroth. The Chief and Craig some time ago decided to begin a campaign for the more strict enforcement of the statutes forbidding the sale of liquor and tobacco to children under is years of age. It was a notorious fact that children of tender years were "rushing the growler" for dissipated perents, all over the city, and the Chief of Police and the Humane Officer thought it about time to make an example of some of the people who were responsible for such unlawful acts.

Just about the time that the crusade against the "growler" was determined upon, a woman, Mrs. Tennant, was taken to the Receiving Hospital with a violent attack of delirium tremens. It was lecended that she had been in the habit of sending her little stepdaughter to the Central-avenue Pharmacy for wine, with which she kept herself in a constant state of inebriation. Policemen reported that it was a common in the drug store in question, so Humane Officer Craig thought that a good place to begin his crussed against the "growler" evil.

SEVEN CLOSING MATCHES.

Today tennis week will be ended. There are but seven matches to play off. In the all comers' doubles, C. P. Murdock and Reuben Hunt of Oakland will play Sinsabaugh and Overton in the semi-finals. It should be a close match. The winners will play A. E. Bell and A. C. Way for the championship, and there will be another fine match. Claude Wayne will play his partner, Harry Lane, in the semi-finals of the consolation singles. Wayne is playing a good game, but Lane is an older and more experienced man, and should win. Lane, if he wins, will play Sinsabaugh for the prize. Unlass the unexpected happens, Sinsabaugh will win, as he is in the first class, and Lane has one or more seasons to play before he reaches that class. The finals of the mixed doubles will be contested by Sinrabaugh and Miss May Sutton. Both these teams have set their heart on the championship, and it is anybody's match. The finals of the laddes' doubles will be played by Miss Seymour and Miss Violet Sutton, against Miss Dobbins and Miss Florence Sutton. SEVEN CLOSING MATCHES.

It is a noticeable ract that not a barrel of oil has been sold on the local exchange for weeks, although hardly a day goes by that offers to buy are not made. For weeks a notice asking for sixteen gravity oil has been on file at the Los Angeles Exchange. It is also announced that the Standard Oil Company has been trying to secure several large shipments from the local field, but has met with poor success.

Oil is firm at $1.25 a barrel, and unless a radical change is made in the conditions, it will continue to be scarce even at that psice.

The first step in the organization of the purchasers of the oil rights of the Ojai ranch in Ventura county, formerly owned by United States Senator Thomas R. Bard, was taken last evening at a meeting of a majority of the subscribers. At this meeting it was decided to incorporate at once under the laws of California, with Los Angeles as the principal place of business. A board of directors composed of nine members, was selected, which included the following subscribers: Senator Thomas R. Bard, W. H. Perry, Herman W. Hellman, Thomas Hughes, L. H. Valentine, Gen. John R. Mathews, A. H. Naftzger, A. J. Crookshank and Edward Strossburg. KERN RIVER DISTRICT.

The writer has made a careful examination of the field, and in the letter he says:

"The Kern River oil field, as far as it has been developed, comprises an area of about twelve square miles. Within this area about 130 wells have been drilled, and many others have been commenced. These wells have been drilled in groups, and some of the groups are nearly a mile apart. The depth of the wells varies from 450 to more than 1000 feet. The formation pentrated is: First, alluvium or drift, which in a few places exceeds fifty feet in thickness: then a stratum of blue clay from twenty-five to 350 feet thick, beneath the blue clay is water sand from ten to 100 feet in thickness; beneath the water sand the formation consists of alternate strata of clay and sand.

"The well records show that most of these sands contain oil, and that in some instances they aggregate a thickness of more than 300 feet. It is uninkely that the old sands of the Kern River oil field will prove of uniform rhickness, or uniformly saturated with petroleum, but the developments at this date indicate that the Kern River field is the largest developed oil field in California.

"The owners of the wells in the Kern River field sided state that the Kern River field said state with wells."

The twenty-barrel well lately uncovered by the Superior Oil Company in the Sunset field continues to give a good flow. This well is only 200 feet deep, but will be sent down to the 500-foot mark when a well equal to the Monarch's is expected.

Although the drill is down 1500 feet in the Liberty Campany's well in the Fullerton field, no oil has been found.

The greatest rate cutting has been made in attempts to get the meat shipments from Chicago. In railroad circles the danger of the freight war thus started becoming general among transcontinental roads is regarded as imminent.

speculation. Suffering in general is probably the result of sin that has degraded mankind. Christ does not say that physical defects and pains are never traceable, in a general or an individual way, to sins of parents, or to the earlier sins of the sufferer, but He says there is no such a thing true in the present case. To summarize the points of His reply, He said that there was no sin in this case to bring on the blindness, and that his blindness furnished an occasion for the display of God's power. They wanted to know the cause and He told them the purpose. The work of God is to remove sin and sorrow as well, and this distress calls for the exercise of a mercy for the sorrow that will finally releve the blindness of sin. This vindicates God from the false views the rabbis had of Him. Jegus sees in this an opportunity for the display of God's gracious power in a work of mercy. Moreover, He is the one sent to manifest the works of God, and He thinks more about the needs of the man than the cause of his condition. He seems concerned about two things—to work those works of God in the cases in which God will be most sjoriously manifested, and suffering will be most signally relieved as in this special instance, and to fill the whole day of His life full of those works. He felt a special responsibility, too, in the fact that He was the light of the world, and that He must shine into as many dark hearts as possible. He had appropriated to Himself the teaching of the candelaabra in the woman's court and said, "I am the light of the world." Today He used the new physical symbol and declared again, with a new meaning, in view of the man whose sight was to be given him, that He was the light of the world. He is to be in this case the light of the world. He is to be in this case the light of the world. He world will go on after He ascended to heaven, still they have some things the was to go on after He ascended to heaven, still they have some things the world he must do during the short period of His earthly ministry,

THE CONNECTION.

After the long talk in Capernaum from which our lessons on the child-like spirit and the forgiving spirit were taken, Jesus went down privately to Jerusalem to attend the Feast of Tabernacles. That was in September and the year 29 A. D., according to the chronology we are following. While there he had exciting experiences, told chiefly in John 7-10. He barely escaped arrest; he was insultingly treated with charges and disputes; he folled an attempt of the people to stone him by hiding himself and going out of the temple. Yet He took advantage of their inquiries and all their excited interest in Him to teach thom many truths, as about being the Light of the World and the Good Shepherd of the sheep; to rebuke and to expose some of their sias and to heal many diseases as in the case of this man born blind. This healing of the blind man was "as he passed by" when He escaped from the mob who tried to stone Him, or a few days later, or later still, in December, at the First of Dedication. We cannot tell exactly at which time it was. THE LESSON:

the blind man with the clay. And said unto him, 'Go wash in the pool of Siloam, '(which is by interpretation sent.) Ho went his way, therefore, and washed, and came seeing." It is not known whether the blind man knew they were discussing him, but it is presumed that he did; and, though he did not request that his eyes should be opened, he must have listened with interest, as well as confusion, to what they were saying. If he heard that tender, manly, musical voice of Jesus, he could not fear Him or doubt His goodness. In healing, Jesus sometimes spoke a word only, sometimes touched the person, as when He took Peter's wife's mother by the hand and lifted her up. His word was enough and He did not need physical aid, but sometimes He used some simple means to help the faith of the person, fot to help Himself. The anointing and sending to the pool to wash his eyes was the means of establishing points of contact between the man's foith and Himself. Both the saliva and the clay were thought by Orientals to have medicinal effects on the eyes, and, as the man could not look into the face of Jesus to believe, and had only heard His name called, he was encouraged by the salve to believe that he would be helped. The washing in the pool was thought to be healing also. Christsen him to wash in the bool of Siloam were it in the salve to be level that he would be helped. The washing in the pool of Himself; Isalah had also taken the fountain as an emblem of Messiah's kingdom; Christ had just said to the Jewe that the waters of Siloam were a type of Himself; shalah had also taken the fountain as an emblem of Messiah's kingdom; Christ had just said to the Jewe that the waters of Siloam means "sent," as John, the writer, throws in a parenthesis to explain, Siloam; the spring "sent" from the hills, cannot heal actually, but is typical of Him who was "sent" from God to make a men "every whit whole." The man in going acted on the faith he had, acted with decision, for he was blind and might have been isingled at

"The neighbors, therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, anid, Ts not this he that ast and begged? Some said, This is he. Others said, 'He is like him;' but he said, 'I am he.' Therefore said they unto him, 'How were thine eyes opened?' He answered and said, 'A man that is called Jesus made clay and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, 'Go to the pool of Bloam and wash;' and I went and washed, and received sight.' Then said they unto him, 'Where is He?' He said, I know not. They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. And it was the subbath day when Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes. Then again the Pharisees asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, 'He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.' Therefore, said some of the Pharisees, this man is not of God, because He keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, 'How cam a man that is a sinner do such miracles?' And there was a division among them. They say unto the blind man again, 'What say-est thou of Him, that He hath opened thine eyes.' He said, 'He is a prophet.' He bore testimony to his neighbors, who were startled to see him walking about with sight. His eyes made a difference in his appearance, and yet they felt sure it was the same man who was blind. They were full of prejudice and jealouny, yet caimly he told the story of his cure. His testimony to his neighbors was brave, simple, straightforward, intelligent, although he was in danger of violent treatment. III.

The idea of human suffering being a consequence and a punishment of sin seems to have been deeply written in the consciousness of the nations of the earth. Among the people of the East, at the present day, all cases of malformation, or of special weakness of suffering, among infant children, are commonly attributed to the sins of the parents. The sins supposed to be the cause of this innecent suffering are, however, not physical or physiological, but are mostly ceremonial; the omission of some part or detail in the ceremonial law having brought upon them this calamity.—[Long.

Wherever suffering has come from, there can be no manner of doubt that it calls out all that is best in human nature—sympathy, self-denial, gentleness, compassion, forgiveness of spirit, patient forbearance, all that is most divine in man. To seek for the cause of suffering in order to blame and exonerate ourselves from all responsibility and claim on our pity and charity, is one thing, quite another to inquire into the cause for the sake of more effectually dealing with the effect. No matter what has caused the suffering, here certainly it is always with us, and what we have to do with it is to find in it material and opportunity for a work of God. To rid the world of evil wretchedness, lonely sorrow, destitution and disease is, if anything, the work of God. Our duty then, if we would be fellow-workers with God in what is real and abiding, is plain.—[Dods.] WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The board took up the subject of ordinance No. 633i, relating to weights and measures, and fixing the compensation of the scaler, and drafted letter to the City Council, setting forth their grievance. In this letter they say:

"If the office of scaler of weights and measures was created to protect the general public from dishonest methods of merchants in their transactions with the public, we submit that the compensation of the scaler should be borne by all the taxpayers and not exacted as a special tax from the merchants."

They contend that the ordinance is unjust and unfair; that it is not a public necessity, and is inadequate in its operation. They ask that the amounts already paid by merchants under this ordinance be refunded.

As an evidence that the fees exacted by the scaler are a burden, attached to the letter to the City Council is a schedule giving the names of twenty-nine firms on Los Angeles street, whose cales were tested in six days, between August 6 and August 15, and showing that the aggregate fees paid by these twenty-nine firms amounted to $96.50.

The board also had before it a letter from Gen. Mathews, with reference to the proposed disadvantageous change in the railway mail service, by transferring the full service back to Albuquerque. Resolutions were adopted asking the Postoffice Department that the change he not made and also the proposed disadvantageous change in the railway mail service, by transferring the full service back to Albuther the change he not made and also the change he are also the change he are also

FOINTS ON WHEAT. Bradstreets' collates the following facts and estimates on wheat:

The Winnipeg, Manitoba, government report shows wheat yield only 13.3,000 bushels, 348,000 acres were lost; remaining area, 1,467,000 acres; awc.age yield, 7.5 bushels.

In a published interview J. J. Hill retinates the loss, of wheat in Minne-tota and the Dakotas at 100,000,000 bushels, while the St. Paul Pioneer 17.28 estimates the wheat crop of the three States at 78,000,000 bushels.

The yield of wheat this year in the limited Kingdom is estimated at 58, 700,000 bushels on 2,000,000 acres, or 13 bushels per acre. Last year the yield was 32.76 bushels per acre, and the average for ten years ending 1839 was 30.16 bushels per acre. The government's report on spring wheat shows a condition August 1 of 58.2, a gain of 1.2 points for the month, but is 37.2 points lower than in 1898 and 27 points below the average for ten years past. The conditions of corn iscilined 2 points during the month of July, being 67.5 on Angust 1.

According to an official report a big Spanish wheat crop is expected this year. Last season's yield amounted to about 11,700,000 quarters, but this year the estimate exceeds 14,700,000 quarters.

According to the estimate of the Italian Minister of Agriculture, this year's wheat crop will necessitate an import of 2,000,000 quarters to 4,000,000 quarters of wheat, or about the same quantity as in the previous year.

Consul Albion W. Tourgee, in a report from Bordeaux, quotes the French Minister of Agriculture as saying that the deficiency of the present wheat crop in France, in excess of the surplus remaining over of the crops of 1839 and 1859, will amount to about 10,000,000 bushels. While the experts to alled, disagree as to the probable quantity of wheat France will want, to meet the expected deficiency, the outlook is that the United States will increase exportations of this cereal to France to a considerable exent. Jin 1839 went over 28,000,000 bushels of wheat to France. In 1839 there was a sharp failing o

Figures of production for the first six months show that while the huge quantity of 7.642.569 gross tons of pig fron was made in that period, all of it, except about 275.000 tons, was used.

The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, operator of the Bessemer rolling mill at Birmingham. Ala, has signed the wage scale of the Amalgamated Association.

Word was received at headquarters that the wage scale of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers has been signed by the southern car combine for all its mills in the south. This means work for about 1300 men.

Iron Age furnace figures show over forty furnaces blown out in July, thus reducing undual rate of production over 2.000,000 tons. Previous reduction had been about one million tons. This brings current rate of production fown to about 12.700,000 tons. "If, therefore," say Rogers, Brown & Co., "we consumed our enormous output in the first half of the year and cut down production 30 per cent, the last half, shall we be dealing a few months hence with overproduction or shortage."

SALOON MEN'S MEETING.

Committee Authorized to Pight Against

The saloon keepers and other liquor dealers of the city will bitterly contest the effort of the Board of Polics Commissioners to have removed from the saloons and some of the restaurants the private boxes which are a source of so much evil. It has not been definitely decided what kind of a fight will be made, however, and to seven well-known men interested in that business has been left the entire business, with full authority to make such a campaign as they deem proper. This committee is empowered to trake the matter to the courts, or it can try the case at the bar of politics, and present indications are that the latter course will first be followed.

At the meeting of the Retail Liquor Dealey's Association yesterday afternoon the question of the proposed removal of the boxes has about an early and the saloon men on the subject. The association is a secret organization, and as most of its secrets have leaked out from time to time, it was thought necessary to warn the members against making public anything which occurred yesterday.

This made some of the members cautious as to what they said. It was learned, however, that the entire matter was placed in the hands of the Excellent of the saloon man last night. "You will see that we have some influence, and that it will count for something. I'll tell you what you may expect. You can look for a complete fall down by the Police Commissioners. All they will be generally enforced may lose his license, some saloon-keeper should have been revocation or two, the group of the boxes are proposed or it may be for this proposed removal of the boxes, regardless of the means employed to do so.

"Do you think we propose to sit felly by and let anything like that be done without making a fight for it?" said one saloon man last night. "You will see that we have some influence, and that it will count for something. I'll tell you what you may expect. You can look for a complete fall down by the Police Commissioners. SANTA MONICA, Aug. 17.—[Regular Correspondence.] The case of E. Gamberi, proprietor of the Pacific Gardens, and two of his waiters, Edward Tharp and Clemen Kirchner, charged with violating the liquor ordinance of Santa Monica, was tried today before City Recorder Wells. RECORD BASS CAUGHT.

F. S. Schenck did himself proud again yesterday and his album will receive its most notable contribution. He was out for black sea bass and brought in two, one being the record for the season, weighing 350 pounds, which was twenty pounds better than the record fish of last year, though Mr. Manning, who had the record after the tournament was ended made another catch of one which weighed 370 pounds. Mr. Schenck's fish is about seven feet long and will girth nearly as much, and the wonder grows how such a huge fish could be conquered and brought to gaff in seventeen minutes with a light rod and twenty-one-thread line which would stand a strain of about forty pounds on a deal lift. The smaller fish was a pretty good-sized minnow, weighing 224 pounds. Besides, Mr. Schenck brought in twenty-four bass, caught while waiting for the jewfish to bite.

A Los Angeles party went to the lathmus and caught twelve yellowing and Mr. L. McCray of Los Angeles. The anglers were Louis Sentous, Tony Armstory, D. Foix, Frank Millet.

Two Alleged Smugglers Caught Red-handed.

Special Council Committee.

Correspondence.] Jesus Machado and Antoine Mansure, two men who have been watched for years by the customs officers of this city, have been at last caught in the act of smuggling, by Deputy Collector Todd. Collector Todd. Collector Bowers says he is satisfied that Machado has been smuggling both ways for years, and has become wealthy at the business. He is believed to have accomplices on both sides of the line. When arrested last night near Nestor, the two men had a well-equipped pack train of nine horses and were presumably going down after goods supposedly concealed near the line. They were held by Commissioner Knoles for trial in the United States District Court.

Residents and property owners are rejoicing today in the action of the City Council last evening in adopting the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the situation thoroughly and to look into ways of relief. The committee, after an examination of the San Diego. Water Company's system, decided that it was not possible for the company to meet the requirements of the city, and visited E. S. Babcock, president of the Southern California Mountain Water Company and the United Water Supply Company, and received from him an offer to perfect a complete new distributing system to be owned by the municipality, purchased by the issuing of $60.000 in bonds. The system now known as the United Water Supply Company's property would be leased to the city with purchasing privileges, the water company to place pipes wherever the city desired them. The City Council hastened to adopt the report submitted by the special committee, favoring the acceptance of Mr. Babcock's plan. The question is now "up to" the Mayor and other city officials.

IMPATIENT OVER DELAY. IMPATIENT OVER DELAY.

San Diegans, generally, are much disappointed at the delay in building of the Carnegie library. It has been over a year since Mr. Carnegie made his gift of $50,000 to the city for that purpose. Months were required to settle upon a site for the building, more delay resulted in regard to plans, and when the plans were received from New York architects, a number of changes were found necessary. Now bids for putting up the accepted plans run $20,000 ahead of the amount given by Mr. Carnegie. There is complaint because California architects were not consulted.

SAN DIEGO BREVITIES.

The State Board of Health, on its annual tour of inspection of State institutions, went out to the San Diego State Normal School yesterday morning, and in the afternoon visited the boundary line between California and Mexico, in order to acquaint themselves with the vicinity. The knowledge would be of value to them should it become necessary to establish a quarantine station at that point.

BOLD INCENDIARIES. PIRE A TOWN AND ATTEMPT TO ROB DWELLINGS.

IA. P. DAY REPORT.)

PEORIA (Ill.,) Aug. 17.—Smithfield, a town of 1500 inhabitants, forty-three miles west of here, was visited last night by a very destructive fire, which threatened for a time to entirely destroy the place. As it was a dozen buildings were burned, and the loss, it is estimated, will aggregate $50,000 to $475,000. The village has no fire department. The citizens with garden hose and buckets, did what they could to get water onto the fire. Their efforts, however, were of no avail, and the fire burned until it had consumed the entire business district.

The fire was of incendiary origin, the match having been applied by men who afterward tried to rob the homes of the villagers. They were discovered in two or three houses, but escaped. They left town in a wagon, driving rapidly away.
